(3) Police Shift Supervisors (one per shift)

DEPARTMENT

Department of Public Safety (DPS)

RATIONALE FOR POSITIONS

These positions will report to the Chief of Police. Currently, the 24/7 shifts are overseen by shift coordinators, not true supervisors. The requirements and expectations for true supervisors are higher, including evaluating employees' performance and handling all matters of discipline, and having in-depth knowledge in the appropriate application of all levels of force, police tactics, and arrest laws.

In addition providing supervision and management of a shift, supervisors will serve as an in-the-field patrol supervisor, schedule personnel to insure proper shift coverage; train, evaluate and discipline officers as necessary and as required; interact with outside safety and police agencies for additional assistance when necessary; assume immediate command authority during critical incidents; and assume administrative support functions at the direction of the Chief of Police, e.g., investigation oversight, community policing oversight.

Applied Technologies

RATIONALE FOR POSITION

Applied Technologies started Autumn Quarter 2001. RATIONALE FOR POSITION

This position is needed to meet the demand of producing alternate media for students with disabilities. CDs and related digital formats are the number one requested formats by students with disabilities. The part time person working in this position at 30 hours per week is not sufficient to meet the demand of student requests during Autumn Quarter 2007 and Winter Quarter 2008 enrollment will have as challenging or greater demands.

Over the past year (Autumn 2006 – Autumn 2007), we have seen a 44 percent increase in the production of alternate media. This includes producing books in alternate format via tape duplication, CD burning, publisher e-text, reading books, scanning books onto CD, MP3 or e-text and ordering materials from Recording for the Blind and Dyslexic. In Autumn 2006, we logged 51 texts in alternate media, while in Autumn 2007 that number increased to 91. As of January 31, 2008, there is an increase for Winter Quarter 2007 (111) compared to Winter Quarter 2006 (46), which represents a 63 percent increase.

POSITION TITLE

Coordinator, Media Relations

DEPARTMENT

Institutional Advancement

RATIONALE FOR POSITION

For the past several years, media relations duties (such as writing and distributing news releases, answering media inquiries, pitching potential news stories, coordinating news events, and maintaining media contacts) have been performed by the VP of Institutional Advancement, IA's Communications Coordinator, and IA's Web Communications Coordinator. This arrangement has served the college adequately in terms of announcing major news items and reacting to and answering media inquiries. However, as IA has expanded other communication initiatives significantly—especially in Web communication, employee communication, and student communication—the staff members in these positions have been unable to devote the time necessary to coordinate a proactive media relations campaign that promotes the college and its students and employees to the fullest potential.

This position will be responsible for coordinating and carrying out a proactive media relations campaign. He/she will produce news releases, generate news items, maintain relationships with all print and broadcast journalists throughout Columbus State's service area, generate and coordinate news events, develop news for the college home page and manage the colleges "news media" Web site, generate articles in the national higher education and community college media, and serve as the college spokesperson for noncritical issues (the VP of IA will continue to serve as the college spokesperson for major issues). By significantly increasing the college's visibility in media throughout the college's service district, this position will play an important role in enhancing the college's image and supporting enrollment growth.

This position will also free up time enabling the Web Communications Coordinator to devote more time to developing and enhancing departmental Web sites, and it will enable the Communications Coordinator to expand communication initiatives with current students.

To fill a temporary need and/or to test the need for a position, the College engages employees on a full-time temporary basis.

Allocation for Public Safety systems.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

Like colleges and universities across the country, Columbus State Community College has been examining its various public safety systems. The college's campus safety plan calls for upgrading various systems to enhance the college's ability to centrally monitor various alarm and other systems, focus enforcement efforts by adding visual monitoring through close circuit televisions to target theft from auto crimes in parking lots, secure priority areas across campus that hold sensitive information and materials with card access, and enhance public address communication capabilities.

At its November 2007 meeting, the Board of Trustees allocated $2.5 million for strategic campus safety initiatives for system enhancements.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees allocate $850,000 of the $2.5 million strategic allocation for Campus Safety initiatives for system enhancements that will include a central monitoring system, camera monitoring systems for parking lots, card access for priority areas, and enhanced public address communication capabilities.

Revisions to Policy 9-10, Investments

BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

HB 119, the state of Ohio's biennial budget legislation, amended sections of law pertaining to investments by public higher education institutions. After three years of experience investing pursuant to the policy first authorized by the Board in 2004, and given the statutory amendments, the opportunity presented itself to review and update the college's investment policy.

The proposed changes:

- Define more specifically the list of authorized investments;
- Expand in policy the specificity of the college's reporting requirements to align with practice; the specificity in this reporting is a strong internal control;
- Outline the parameters within which securities can be sold prior to maturity.

In addition to considering statutory amendments, the proposed policy revisions were informed by input from the college's investment advisors and the Attorney General's office, and by the investment committee, which is comprised of the college's treasurer and two deputy treasurers. Additionally, the proposed revisions were reviewed and recommended by both Councils of Shared Governance.

The specific proposed revisions are attached.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees approve revisions to Policy 9-10, Investments, as proposed in the attached.

MEMO TO: Dr. M. Valeriana Moeller, President
FROM: Terri Gehr, Senior Vice President and CFO
SUBJECT: Internal Audit Function

Background

In October 2004, the Board of Trustees adopted a Fiscal Oversight Policy, 1-13. Among other things, the policy calls for the President to periodically report to the Board of Trustees on an external assessment of the college's internal control structure and procedures for financial reporting.

To date, the college's external assessment of internal controls has been conducted annually as part of the annual audit. In January, Parns & Co. reported to the Board of Trustees that no material weaknesses to the college's internal controls were found, and the auditors rendered their unqualified opinion on the college's financial statements for the period ending June 30, 2007. In fact, only two minor issues were noted for consideration, one relating to the bookstore inventory, the other related to financial aid documentation.

Recommendation

Having reviewed information from a variety of sources, including benchmarking Ohio's colleges that are similar to Columbus State, it is clear that institutions of higher education are focusing more effort and resources on the internal audit function. While having the function in-house vs. outsourced continues to be debated, Aletha Shipley, our Director of Business Services and Controller, and I recommend at this time that the college outsource the work for the near future. Subsequently, the approach can be considered further in the context of the results of the outsourced work.

Self-assessment of Internal Controls

Self-Assessment of Internal Controls. Between late autumn 2006 and summer 2007, Aletha and her team conducted a college-wide self-assessment of internal controls, using a modified version of the assessment tools used by the State of Ohio, Office of Budget and Management. Aletha's eight years of experience as Director of the internal audit function at Ohio State University and the Ohio Department of Development has been especially helpful in focusing administrators' attention on the need for tight internal controls.

Dr. M. Valeriana Moeller
Page Two
March 7, 2008

The results of the self-assessments have been tabulated and high risk areas for further review to insure tight internal controls have been identified. They will inform a plan for review of high risk areas.

Recent and Current Internal Controls Work

Consolidating Accounting Systems. Additionally, as an outcome of this review, several initiatives to tighten controls are in progress. Most significant is the centralization of accounting functions for auxiliary services under the direction of the Controller which, in the late 1990s, was separated into its own accounting system. Risks associated with having multiple systems will be mitigated when the systems are consolidated.

CEWD, Conference Center. The Business Services Department is working closely with administrators in the Community Education and Workforce Development Division and the Conference Center to strengthen processes for managing revenue, expenses, and other aspects of financial reporting.

Special Review at College's Request. Additionally, during 2007, the college engaged Parms & Co., with the approval of the State Auditor's Office, for a program review of the college's student activities programs. The review informed new leadership of systems and processes that needed to be strengthened.

Benchmarking

The three colleges that are in size and scope similar to ours are Owens, Sinclair and Cuyahoga. Owens is in conversation with its board about how the internal audit function is best handled. Sinclair engages firms for routine and special reviews, and Cuyahoga recently reinstated a position that manages the internal audit function and is adding a support position. Unlike the others of us, Cuyahoga is most decentralized, with three campuses, and a district office.

TO: Board of Trustees
FROM: Dr. Val Moeller, President
DATE: March 12, 2008
SUBJECT: Financial Statements as of February 29, 2008

Attached are the financial statements of Columbus State Community College, the Foundation, and the President’s Discretionary Fund for the period ended February 29, 2008.

1. General Fund

• Enrollment

Quarter	Budgeted Headcount	Headcount	Increase/ Decrease	FY 07 FTEs	FY 08 FTEs	% Variance
Summer 2007	13,280	13,448	1.3%	7,140	7,401	3.6%
Autumn 2007	22,745	23,057	1.4%	14,675	15,010	2.3%
Winter 2008*	21,570	22,669	5.1%	13,674	14,798	8.2%
Spring 2008

*Preliminary headcounts and FTEs

• Revenues (Exhibit B)

Total revenues are $84,140,783 or 68.7% of the Revised FY 08 budget, compared to 66.5% last year. Winter quarter tuition revenue is higher due to higher than projected enrollment in the revised budget. Also, lab fee revenues are included in the “revenues” rather than netted against expenses under “expenditures.” This adjustment does not change the bottom line; it is an adjustment to how the information is presented in these financials versus the revised budget presentation from January.

• Expenditures (Exhibit B)

Total operating expenditures (before transfers) are $69,217,942 for the period, or 60.8% of the revised budget. This is consistent with the prior year expenditures of 60.2%.

2. Auxiliary Fund (Exhibit D)

This consolidated Exhibit summarizes for each auxiliary program the financial position versus budget, the projected year end results, and the fund balance. A brief note on each follows.

Bookstore. The Bookstore earned $6,683,145 through February 29, 2008, 65.3% of revised budgeted revenues, compared to 62% last year. Some of this additional revenue is related to higher textbook sales resulting from an increase in enrollment, and most areas in the Bookstore have experienced improved sales due to having space and the ability to operate effectively in the DX. Operating expenses are comparable to the same period last year.

Bridgeview Golf Course. Bridgeview earned $246,547 through February, or 44% of revised budgeted revenues. Operating expenses were $336,018, which is lower than last year (July-February), which had expenditures of $360,144, due to restructuring of operations for efficiency. Bridgeview is opening for the season on March 15.

Child Development Center (CDC). CDC continues its re-engineering with a goal of breaking even by the next fiscal year. Recent approval of a major grant will allow for recoupment of expenses and will be reflected in next month's financials.

3. President's Discretionary Fund (Exhibit F)

The President's Discretionary Fund has a cash balance of $5,353 at February 29, after disbursements of $14,647.

4. Foundation (Exhibits G and H)

Foundation revenues are $344,726 compared to $801,819 as of February last year. After substantial losses in January, the investment portfolio began to somewhat stabilize in February. While the Foundation's portfolio compared to the same point last year is about the same, they have exhausted prior year's unrestricted earnings. This has the attention of The Foundation's leadership. A direct mail letter to current donors and a website for alumni to contribute on-line are initiatives designed to increase contributions.

5. Investments

The College's portfolio is invested consistent with its investment policy, with 35.6% currently invested in STAROhio and other money markets, with the balance in federal agencies.
